This year has been successful for Mr. James. He demonstrated a strong commitment to professional development and student success by completing multiple AI courses (Claude 101, AI Foundations) and leveraging them to guide his 10th-grade students and their parents in building a personalized syllabus-based study application. This collaborative initiative actively engaged families and empowered 100% of his targeted students to overcome the rigor of their college coursework and meet their growth goals, earning him a proficient rating in Collaborative Conversations and Student Growth Measures. His next steps are to follow up with certification and to complete the courses needed for the Maryland teacher certification.
End of Year Conference:
Professionalism Form (max points:5) (Displayed score is average of rated sub-components)	4.5
A. Maintains accurate records	Distinguished
Mr. James uses Edronics. It is an Excel spreadsheet that automates when students update their grades and populates data and gives students appropriate grades. He also uses Synergy.
B. Relates without difficulty to staff members, students and/or parents	Distinguished
Mr. James establishes a rapport with students and parents. He sends direct emails to individual families and the whole class. This new way forces parents to give acknowledgment of the emails. His communication was preventative and informational for all.
C. Demonstrates effective oral and written communication skills	Proficient
Mr. James communicates effectively via email. When having face-to-face conversations, he is able to receive and use feedback for the betterment of his pedagogy.
D. Demonstrates punctuality	Proficient
Mr. James is present daily on time. He ensures that he is prompt and on time for meetings.
E. Follows established district policies and procedure	Distinguished

Mr. James follows the established rules of Largo and PGCPs. If he does not understand a policy, he will ask and adjusts accordingly.
Growing & Developing Professionally (Displayed score is average of rated sub-components-for reference only)	3.5
a. Professional Practice Plan (EOY)	Level 3
Currently, Mr. James has participated in Coursera courses, but they are not for certification. He has been trying to reach out to the certification office and has received multiple automated messages from certification.
b. Collaborative Conversations (EOY)	Level 4
Student Growth Measures (Displayed score is average of rated sub-components-for reference only)	3
a. SGM Student Growth Plan (EOY)	Level 2
Mr. James did not completely post his SGM. He targeted his 10th graders because previously they were challenged by the rigor of the college courses. Ultimately, 100% of his 10th graders met their goal.
b. SGM Collaborative Conversations (EOY)	Level 4
Mr. James was able to achieve his goal by sending the parents a clear guide to the parents on how his students could build the application based on the college syllabi. They also created flash cards and questionnaires. The parent gave input to the students. With this input, the app was personalized to the families. Once it was personalized, they can import any syllabus. They were able to get rewards for scoring a certain score on an exam. This app gave students insight on what was being taught, which gave them insight before a lesson was taught by a professor.

Jones, Robyn 11/07/2025 08:41 AM: This is Mr. James' second year with the Talent Ready program. His passion for his students and the program is undeniable. This year his focus is on completing his first two classes needed for certification and making sure his students are successful (C or better) in their college courses. His strategy is in place and involves all stakeholders for each student. This will be an exciting year as he will also have his first graduating senior class, who will receive an associates degree and high school diploma.
Jones, Robyn 01/13/2026 09:54 AM: Mr. James has made strong mid-year progress toward his professional and instructional goals by actively pursuing certification options and ensuring high levels of student success. Mr. James has engaged with HR and his director to adjust his certification pathway, enrolled in the Coursera AI and Google IT Support courses to better support students, and achieved a 100 percent pass rate in both the Speech Communications and IT Foundations classes through targeted study sessions, reteaching, and consistent family communication. His efforts have strengthened students' content mastery and confidence, created a reliable support system for college-level coursework, and reinforced a culture of academic excellence in his Talent Ready program. Based on Danielson's Framework, Mr. James is demonstrating effective practice in Domains 1, 2, and 3, and continued alignment of his certification pathway will further solidify his professional growth and instructional impact.
